DIRECTIONS: If you are like most people, you've probably learned that a few things break your heart. This survey will help you understand who you would like to serve.

2. What makes you say, "I wish someone would do something about that"?

3. If you had a lot of money, how would you use it to help others?

4. What things are wrong, unjust, or unfair in this world that ought to be made right?

5. What news stories make you really upset because someone is hurting or in need?

6. If you waved a magic wand, how would you make this world a better place?

7. What experiences in your life has God comforted you that you could comfort others?

In the lines below summarize what you think may be your top burdens, and share them with the group.
